HERE is the latest growl at Reuter, by the Singapore Free Press:—It is impossible to pass without comment the absence of any Renter's Telegram from London on the affairs of the Chartered Mercantile Bank. The report of the Directors was issued on Saturday: at the time of going to press two days later, the agency that takes from the Government of this Colony and the newspapers the good round sum of $6,000 a year has not yet condescended to wire out an event of the atmost importance to the East. Comment is almost needless, and complaints have been so constant lately that we almost despair of their being of any avail. But we shall be very much surprised if steps are not taken soon to mend or end connection with Europe through an Agency guilty of constant and careless begleet of the interests of its clients. We want news, not twaddle of the kind so frequently palmed off on us.

THE Northern Territory Times of Sept. 23 mays: -- Amongst other things, the steamer Tainan has on board, for deliverance at Hongkong, the coffined and preserved corpse of a Chinaman who was one of Sydney's men of wealth. His estate was valued at £70,000, and the procession which escorted his remains from his house to the China Company's boat was one of the biggest crowds since the days of Soudan, the expense of the funeral running into more than £1000. The coffin was stowed aboardship with great ceremony. Quong Tart, Way Lee, and other celebrities were there, and between champagne feeds and beavy nots of prayer they enjoyed themselves immensely the grand finale being the hiring at a launch to accompany the Tsinan down the bay for the purpose of cheering the widow. Auother thousand pounds is to be spent when the corpse is being taken from the steamer at Hongkong.

The Hiroshima-maru was coming from Shimonoseki and reached the Akashi Straits just overthrown. before three a.m. The captain who has been indisposed for a considerable period was in bed, it being the second officer's watch. The chief officer, Mr Tate, had once ordered the engines half speed, remarking he did not want to reach Kobe before daylight. On the bridge was the quartermaster, and the pilot, a Japanese, as well as second officer Nightingale, and there was a look-out forward. The chief efficer went amidships to give the captain's orders when suddenly he saw the must-hend light of a vessel almost crossing the bows. He instantly put the engines full speed astern but it was too late, and the two ships collided striking a sliding blow. dispatch bont was badly damaged being struck on the starboard quarter Captain Pyne immediately rushed on deck and sent the gig off in charge of the second officer, the gig by a lucky chance having been got ready for lowering before the appointed British Consul there. Straits were reached. The Captain of the dispatch boat kept the gig half-an-hour and then came off with a lady to the Hiroshimamaru, being actually the first mun to leave the ship. In the meanwhile the pinnace had been sent off and rescued the crew. Captain Pyne then suggested that the naval captain should return to his ship and try and beach her, which was ultimately done. the Kure-marn fetching up beside a small pier just as she toppled. There were two ladies and two children on board and these were brought to Kobe. When questioned the captain of the Kure-maru stated that he would stay on board the Hiroshima-maru to see if his ship could be towed to Kobe or whether she would sink. On the arrival of the Hiroshima-maru in Kobe it was found that her stem was twisted, and some of her plates started, and she will probably go to Nagasaki to be docked. The Hiroshima-maru had been advertised to sail for Australian ports, and the accident therefore is all the more to be of the World, a great deal might be said

THE CORBETT SULLIVAN FIGHT. The great fight at New Orleans between Corbett and Sullivan is described at great length in our Canadian exchanges. following is a description of the final

even in that short time. That the contest would end in that round no man present believed. Sullivan came from his corner in the same shape that he had shown for a dozen rounds before. He had the same cross expression on had face and scemed to be as strong as at any time during that period. He continued to do the 'elging in ' and Corbott followed his original tactics of 'edging away." This sort of trade was not going on very long, not more than ten seconds, when Corbett jamped back, rashed forward, hit John on the nose, and John was dazed. Corbett went at him further and the same old nose was ugain smashed and more blood came out. John looked astounded and Corbett jumped back with the merry smile of a school-boy with a big apple. Suddenly he returned to the frav and before Sullivan knew wingt was the meaning of the Californian's happy look he got a crack on the side of the head that bett was on the top of him in no time with his left hand on one side of the head and his right hand on the other. Pour John 1. Sullivan became an unconscious, beaten men. He staggered about on his pins for a second or so, and while displaying this Intal weakness Corbett went down on him again as a crow lights on corn where there is no dummy in the middle of the field. A right on the ear and a left on the jaw soon did the business and the championship. The last blow sent the great John L. Sulliven to the floor with a thump, the second time in all his long career as a fighter that was down this time for fair and finily. was a clean and clover knock-out blow. Sullivan doubled up his legs as though in He failed in that and tried the second time with the same result. He was knocked out pure and simple. His seconds had to come to him and assist him to his corner. Even then John L. was out and did not know what was going on. It was not for over two minutes that John L. recovered himself.
